Instruction: Read the following topics carefully. Choose only two of them and write a 220 to 270-word essay for each. Observe the rules and strategies for writing a full essay with distinct introduction, body and conclusion. You will be scored based on the following qualities in your essay: content – language (vocabulary and grammar)- organization – coherence and cohesion – as well as mechanics such as capitalization, spelling, punctuation and even handwriting. The total time is two hours, one hour for each essay.

Topic 1: Description- Suppose that you are asked to describe your major, Literature or English Translation, to high school graduates who think of this field as an attractive alternative to study at university. Provide them with necessary information so that they can make a sound decision in this regard.

Topic 2: Comparison and contrast – Compare and contrast living in a house with living in a flat. What are some advantages and disadvantages of living in each? Share with the reader your personal experiences. Taking all factors into account, which one do you recommend?

Topic 3: Cause and Effect – what are some causes and effects of generation gap in society? Is generation gap natural or should we try to prevent it?
